

DIJANA PAVLOVIC READS: “LETTER TO THE MOTHER” by Mariella Mehr

Dear mother. My mind is not an escrow account into which I can deposit all our memories and then go on living peacefully, free of all memories. Each of my days is a new attempt to learn to live with these memories, yours and mine. With the memories of the history of our people, without destroying myself.

